BISMAROK STEPS OUT.

The Great Chancellor's Resignation Has Been Accepted.

The Announcement Causes the Most Intense Excitement.

All the Members of the Prussian Ministry Also Resign.

The Reason Now Assigued for the Sensational Rupture.

Bismarck's Resignation Accepted.

BERLIN, March 18 Prince Bismarck tendered his resignation last night and the young emperor after delaying till noon to day decided to accept the same, and has made a formal announcement to that effect.

The rupture between the chancellor and emperor has created a profound sensation here all day long. All the public resorts have been crowded with persons excitedly discussing the event. Large and curious crowds surrounded Bismarck's palace all afternoon and around the emperor's palace an equally anxious throng has been waiting all day.

It is stated in well informed political circles that the present difference between the emperor and Bismarck is irreconcilable. It arises from the chancellor's refusal to accede to the request made by Dr. Windhorst, leader of the clerical party in Germany, to restore to the duke of Cumberland the claimant of the throne of Hanover, the larger portion of the Guelph fund. The report is repeated that the emperor proposes to appoint General Von Caprini, who is now the commander of the Tenth army corps, to the chancellorship.

Soon after Bismarck's resignation was sent to the emperor all the members of the Prussian ministry tendered their resignations also. When the public worship estimates came up for discussion in the lower house to day Dr Windhorst said it had been his intention to review the position of the Catholics in Prussia, but that he would desist owing to the uncertainty of the political situation. The emperor has called a meeting of the commanders of the various army corps. He had a conference with the minister of war this afternoon.

Prince Bismarck and Count Herbert Bismarck lunched with the members of the labor conference to day. The emperor received the delegates and subsequently presided at a banquet given to them in the picture gallery in the castle. Prince Bismarck declined an invitation to the banquet.

The resignation of the Prussian ministry is merely the customary act but it is reported that Count Herbert Bismarck and Minister Maybach really intend to resign. Rickert and Goldschmidt and other Freisinnige deputies were invited to a court banquet to night. Never before has a member of the Freisinnige party been thus honored. It is stated that Professor Handel and Herr Miguel will be invited to enter the cabinet on the earnest request of the emperor.

LONDON, March 18 The Standard's Berlin correspondent says he is assured on good authority that Her Von Boetticher will not succeed Prince Bismarck. The resignation was not influenced in the smallest degree by the result of the election. On the contrary the chancellor had hoped to be able to govern successfully with the present reichstag. The Berlin Post is the only German paper that still doubts that the chancellor's resignation is definite.

The Herald's Rome correspondent says he is authorized to announce that the pope would act as mediator in negotiations for general European disarmament.

Additional Postoffice Facilities.

DENVER, March 18. A Washington special to the Times says: Senator Teller this morning called at the postoffice department in company with Mr. Irving Howbert, of Colorado Springs, who is laboring to secure additional postoffice facilities at that place. Mr Howbert says that the facilities of the present force are entirely inadequate for the transaction of its business. The city and postoffice business have both grown rapidly since the office was established in its present quarters, consequently the building is not large enough to accommodate the business nor is the force sufficient to do the necessary work. He says that an extension of thirty feet ought to be built and that the force ought to be increased by the addition of three clerks and one mounted carrier. The postmaster-general promised to give the matter his immediate attention and indicated that his decision would be favorable. Inspector Patterson, of Denver, has recently investigated the affairs in connection with the Colorado Springs office, and it is supposed that he will report at an early day showing the facts to be as set forth by Mr Howbert.

A Substitute Trust Bill.

WASHINGTON, March 18 Sherman, from the senate committee on finance, reported to day a substitute for his anti-trust bill In the shape presented to-day Sherman thinks he will yet overcome all objections to the measure on the ground of its unconstitutionality. The members of the committee reserve the right to express their opinion of the bill when it comes up for consideration. The substitute declares unlawful and void all combinations of two or more citizens or a citizen with an alien in restraint of free competition in importation or transportation, or which tends to advance the cost of articles of consumption. It gives the United States courts jurisdiction and allows the person damaged to recover double the amount of damage with costs and attorney fees.

The Indianapolis Disaster.

INDIANAPOLIS, March 18. A great crowd surrounds the ruins of the Bowen-Merrill building this morning. An army of workmen is engaged in removing the wreckage to exhume the bodies of the dead and to rescue the living, the voices of several of whom are audible from the ruins. The list of dead, so far as is now known is as follows, all firemen: Andrew O Cherry, George Faulkner, Espy Stormer, David R Lowry, Ulysses G Glazier, Henry D. Woodruff, George Glenn, Albert Hoffman, Anthony Volz and Thomas A. Black. The injured number eighteen. The body of Stormer, which was in the ruins, has been recovered, and only Woodruff's body remains in the debris

The work of clearing away the wreck continued through the day with renewed energy. The floors and roof lay one upon another, with burnt books and stationery sandwiched in between. At 9 o'clock this morning the crushed and mangled remains of Tony Volz were found and extricated. It was about 6 o'clock when the dead fireman was located. Some one noticed a head protruding from the debris. Quick work revealed his form in almost a standing position leaning slightly forward with one hand clasped on his head. It would appear that he had been struck by something and placed his hand there before the fatal blow came. The most horrible of all was the condition of Stormer, whose dead body was taken out with one leg burned entirely off. He must have died in terrible agony, as there were no evidences of his having been killed by falling bricks or timber.

The Sugar Schedule.

CHICAGO, March 18. A special from Washington says that the republican members of the ways and means committee have finally reached an agreement upon the sugar schedule. They have agreed to make raw sugar from 16 Dutch standard down dutiable at 35 per cent ad valorem and refined sugar above 16, Dutch standard, dutiable at 40 per cent ad valorem. This is equivalent to a 50-per cent reduction on many grades of sugar and more than 50 per cent on others. The reduction will average a cut of about 50 per cent and will reduce the revenue from $23,000,000 to $28,000,000. No provision has been made for the payment of any bounty whatever.

The English Strike

LONDON, March 18 The general opinion is that the striking miners will succeed in forcing the masters to concede their demands for an immediate advance of 5 per cent in wages and a further advance of 5 per cent on July 1. Many more mine owners in Nottinghamshire and Lancashire have already acceded to the terms of the men.

The cotton mills at Accrington, Blackburn and Bolton are stopping, owing to the scarcity of coal because of the miner's strike. The London & Southwestern railway is also suffering. All fires in the waiting rooms along the line have been stopped.

LIVERPOOL, March 18 The strike of the dock laborers here is collapsing. The men are showing a disposition to submit to arbitration. New hands to fill the places of the strikers are arriving rapidly.

Cherokees Indignant.

ST. LOUIS, March 18. A Republic's special from Tahlequah says: The Cherokees are terribly incensed over the invasion of the strip. The talk on the streets and at the state house is all of one kind, denunciation of the boomers, but the blame for it is laid upon President Harrison. They attribute the invasion largely to the president's proclamation expelling the cattlemen from the strip and it is evident the prospects for the settlement of the strip question are not so bright as a week ago. The full bloods are especially excited and are holding secret meetings denouncing the raid and condemning the republican party for its course in dealing with the cattlemen. No information has been received as to the damage done by the boomers, but a demand will be made on the United States government for a large sum to cover the injury to grazing lands.

The Government Defeated.

LONDON, March 18. The government was defeated in the commons this evening on a motion of Buchanan, liberal, complaining of the encroachments upon public right of way in Scotland and providing that the laws be reformed and the matter entrusted to the county councils. Chamberlain, a member of the unionist wing, and a few Scotch conservatives supported the motion, which was adopted 110 to 97. The government has summoned Balfour to London.

Farmer Politicians.

KANSAS CITY, MO., March 18. The Farmers alliance in Kansas is growing so rapidly, both in members and in the perfection of the organization, that they have become a decidedly disturbing factor in politics. Every county nearly in the whole state is organized and nearly every farmer in each county is a member of the organization. This thorough organization has made the order exceptionally strong in local politics, where their immediate interests are at stake. The alliance has generally decided to support only those candidates who coincide with their views and adopt their principles. In state politics similar action has been decided upon, and it has even been proposed to run a farmer candidate for governor in the person of A. W. Smith, of McPherson.

The organization has already got its finger in the national pie. The president of the Kansas alliance has addressed to the Kansas senators and representatives at Washington a letter informing them of the belief among the farmers that the depression in the agricultural interests is due to vicious legislation and demanding that some attention be paid to their interests. It says the time is not far distant when the legislators will heed the voice of their constituents, who are one hundred thousand strong in Kansas. The politicians are becoming nervous.

Rosewater on Postal Telegraph.

WASHINGTON, March 18. Edward Rosewater, editor of the Omaha Bee and practical telegrapher, argued before the house committee to day in behalf of the postal telegraph. He said he came, not to advocate any particular bill, nor to antagonize any particular telegraph company. He said he was convinced that the time had arrived for the government to endeavor to secure control of the telegraph. He presented figures showing the expenses and profits on a given wire and said he thought a 15 cent rate for messages ought to be remunerative. Mr. Rosewater advocated the proposition that the government buy up all telegraph lines then advertise for proposals to have private corporations operate the postal telegraph system under the control of the government. This would give the people a cheaper and more efficient service.

Chairman Bingham laid before the committee a letter from Dr. Green and Mr. Eckert, of the Western Union, in which they say the executive committee had instructed them to invite the committee to visit the company's headquarters and examine their general operations. The letter says: "We court the most thorough investigation and are willing that you should employ experts to go through our book accounts and statements."

No Lottery to Be Allowed.

MUSKOGEE, I. T., March 18. Indian Agent Bennett has sent notice to the chief and council of the Choctaw nation that under instructions from the commissioner of Indian affairs no lottery drawing will be allowed within the agency limits.

Low Rates for Veterans.

NEW YORK, March 18. The passenger committee of the trunk lines to day decided to issue excursion tickets to the reunion of the Grand Army at Boston next July on a basis of a single fare for the round trip in trunk line territory.

THE PRIMARIES.

Results of the Republican Primaries Held Last Night.

Large and Harmonious Meetings in All the Five Wards.

Delegates to Next Saturday's City Convention Chosen.

The Nominations of Candidates for Aldermanic Honors.

The republican primaries were held last night and in spite of an apparent lack of interest manifested in the nominations previous to the meeting were universally well attended. Candidates for aldermen were nominated in all the wards and delegates selected to attend the city convention Saturday evening, when a candidate for mayor will be named. If the delegates who were named are present Saturday evening, the convention will be thoroughly representative of the business and professional men of the city.

FIRST WARD.

The First ward meeting was held in the district clerk's office. Judge Campbell called the meeting to order. Mr. E. S. Joslyn was chosen chairman and E. H Owen, jr., secretary.

Mr. J. D. Peltz nominated H. C. McCreery as candidate for alderman from the First ward, and he was chosen.

The following delegates were selected to represent the ward in the city convention: J D. Peltz, E H. Owen, jr., W. H Roby and E. Joslyn.

Mr. W. E. McLain was chosen ward member of the city committee, and the meeting adjourned.

SECOND WARD

The Second ward voters assembled in the county judge's office at the court house. Mr. Reuben Berrey called the meeting to order. Ex Mayor Matt France was chosen chairman and Mr. L H. Gowdy secretary.

Nominations for candidate for alderman being in order Mr. J. S Luckraft nominated W. R Roby, Mr. E J. McIntyre nominated E. S. Bumstead and Mr. Reuben Berrey nominated William Lennox.

Chas B Seldomridge and J. L. Hamilton were appointed tellers to take the vote, which was by ballot. The vote resulted:

Lennox	4
Bumstead	9
Roby	17

Mr. Roby having received a majority of the votes cast, was declared the nominee.

A number of names were mentioned for delegates to the city convention and a vote taken, the seven persons receiving the highest vote being chosen. The delegates chosen were: B. F. Crowell, M. L De Coursey, T. A McMorris, E. J. Eaton, Reuben Berry, M. W. Everleth, Matt France.

Charles B. Seldomridge was chosen ward member of the city central committee, and the meeting adjourned.

THIRD WARD

The Third ward primary meeting was called to order by City Committeeman R B Taylor, who read the call, and the election of temporary officers was proceeded to. Charles Walker was elected chairman and R. B. Taylor secretary. On motion the temporary organization was made permanent.

The chairman announced that the ward was entitled to seven delegates in the city convention and the nominations were made, the vote resulting as follows: R. B Taylor, 23; T. J. Manley, 20; C. H. White, 21; Charles E Noble, 19; Charles Walker, 19; A B. Brisbin, 19; D. B. Fairley, 18; W. H Lloyd, 15; W. F. McKeehan, 14; scattering, 8. The first seven having received the highest number of votes were declared elected.

The nomination of a candidate for alderman was next in order and an informal ballot was first taken, followed by a formal ballot, resulting as follows:

	Informal.	Formal.
George O. Nevins	14	19
C. E. Aiken	3	6
C. H. White	2
Milo Rowell	1
L. C Skinner	2
C. E. Noble	5
R. C. Bartlett	1
J. M Bolton	1	1

After the informal ballot Mr. Noble withdrew in favor of Mr. Aiken and Mr. White also withdrew.

On motion of Mr. Noble the nomination of Mr. Nevins for alderman was made unanimous. Mr. Charles Walker was chosen the Third ward member of the city committee by acclamation, and the meeting adjourned.

FOURTH WARD.

The Fourth ward convention was held in the city council room and was very largely attended. Mr. S. H. Kinsley called the meeting to order and was chosen permanent chairman, with D. F. Law secretary.

Nominations for alderman being in order, several names were proposed. F. A. Sperry nominated J. K. Fical, John Cochran nominated F. L. Rouse, M. E. Irving nominated H. H. Artz and A. F. Moore was nominated. It was objected that Mr. Artz was not a republican and after discussion it was decided that his name should not be considered. The formal ballot resulted as follows:

Fical	1
Moore	19
Rouse	[illegible]

Mr. Rouse was declared the nominee of the caucus. The following list of delegates to the city convention was named and elected by acclamation: John Cochran, T. J. Fisher, A. H. Corman, Charles Griffin, F. A. Sperry, A. Hemenway and J. K. Fical.

F. A. Mangold was chosen member of the city committee, and the meeting adjourned.

FIFTH WARD.

At the Fifth ward primary meeting J. E. David was elected chairman and George F. Owen secretary.

The meeting proceeded immediately to the nomination of a long term alderman. An informal ballot resulted as follows: J. A. Leach 25, F. F. Rudy 10, and W. A Conant 8. On second ballot Rudy got 9 votes, Conant 3, and Leach 22. On motion Mr. Leach was declared the unanimous choice of the caucus.

For short term alderman Mr Conant and Mr. Rudy were placed in nomination and Mr. Rudy was chosen on the first ballot. On motion the nomination of Mr. Rudy was made unanimous.

John Simmons, W. A. Conant and George F Owen were elected delegates to the city convention and M. A Connet was chosen to represent the Fifth ward on the central city committee. The meeting, after speeches from the candidates, then adjourned.

To Aid the Farmers.

CHICAGO, March 18.—A special from Washington to the News says it is very probable that within a week the freight rates on corn from Nebraska points to Chicago will be reduced one half. At a conference between Representative Dorsey, State Auditor Bentoh of Nebraska and President Charles Francis Adams of the Union Pacific the latter said his road would positively cut one half. He thought it would not afford material relief for the farmers, but was willing to do what he could for their benefit. It is thought the reduction will result in a decline in the price of corn.

The Fair Bill Completed.

WASHINGTON, March 18. The world's fair committee completed consideration of their bill this morning. The contest resulted in a victory for Chicago. It is amended so as to provide that the president may issue a proclamation and invitations to foreign exhibitors as soon as he is satisfied that the Illinois corporation has provided for the ten million guarantee. The dates for the exhibition as fixed yesterday are not changed, but Candler gave notice that he would move in the house for holding it in 1893. It was ordered reported to the house immediately.

More Arrests in New York.

NEW YORK, March 18. This morning George Mindemsu was arrested on an indictment for extortion while employed in the sheriff's office. Deputy Sheriff McGonigal and ex-Warden Heating were re arrested to-day. The district attorney has discovered that the indictments are faulty and the grand jury was asked to frame new ones. The original indictments charged extortion. The new ones will make the offense bribery. Bail in the sum of $10,000 was given again by each. By noon there were two more arrests. Deputy Sheriff Charles Linderman and Joseph Young, the former being indicted for petit larceny and the latter for bribery.

The McCalla Inquiry

NEW YORK March 18. The investigation of the charges of cruelty against Commander McCalla was resumed this morning. Jeremiah Shay, fireman, Michael Murphy, coal heaver and H. R. Hewey testified that Lieutenant Mulligan put Shay in irons and triced him up because he did not toe the mark properly on the quarter deck. F. W. Betzer, a fireman, testified that Lieutenant Mulligan treated him the same way and Lieutenant Ingersoll struck Seaman Fitzgerald and banged his head against the mast. Lieutenant Mulligan testified that he could remember no such occurrence.

A Mysterious Case.

CHICAGO, March 18. The police are at work on a mysterious case. On Sunday night Mrs. Jennie Bingham was found lying in the street with a gash in the back of her head. She was taken to a hospital. She remained unconscious until last night when she died. She had been separated from her husband, "Major" Bingham, of Milwaukee, and had been living with Zach Taylor, an engineer. Taylor has been locked up, though there is no evidence that he committed the crime. The victim, it is said, feared Bingham would kill her.

The Steele Court Martial.

CHICAGO, March 18. The court martial for the trial of Lieutenant Steele of the Eighth cavalry assembled at noon and proceeded to hear testimony. Private Dell P. Wild was the complaining witness. His testimony is substantially in accordance with the facts as already given in the public press. After hearing one other witness, Corporal Spott of the Fifteenth infantry in corroboration of Wild's story, which completed the case for the complainant, the court took a recess till to-morrow.

Mrs. Flack on the Stand.

NEW YORK, March 18. The wife of Sheriff Flack was a witness to day in the case against her husband for conspiracy. She was hysterical under cross examination. She told the story, now familiar, denying that she had signed the petition for divorce from her husband and charging as forgeries certain signatures handed to her for inspection. Among these was her own petition in the present action. The defence seeks to establish that she is, and has been, an inebriate.

Petition for Duty on Tin.

WASHINGTON, March 18. Armour has petitioned congress for free tin on the ground that the duty will ruin the canned goods business and increase the price to consumers. The Dakota senators have created quite a sentiment in favor of a duty on tin. They say a duty of two cents per pound will protect the American workman and not increase the cost of canned goods.

Frost in Florida.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., March 18. The mercury fell below freezing point on Sunday night. At Titusville ice was found in exposed places and tender vegetables suffered. It is feared that orange blossoms have been injured in the northwest country. A light frost is reported as far south as Jupiter, though no damage has been done. At Kissime the orange blossoms were slightly injured.

The Cloakmakers' Strike Off.

NEW YORK, March 18 The cloakmakers' strike that has been on ten days was to-day declared off. The bosses signed an agreement with the employes by which the wages of the men have been fixed at $15 per week, weekly payments, and the hours of labor from 8 o'clock in the morning to 6 p. m.

Soldiers' Home Officials Arrested.

LEAVENWORTH, Kas., March 18 Governor Smith and Postmaster Halloway, of the Soldiers' home, were arrested this morning on complaint of Comrade J. Batsen who charged them with purloining a letter addressed to him. They were taken before the United States commissioner and released on their own recognizances.

The New Ministry's Statement.

PARIS, March 18 A statement of the new ministry, announcing the policy which it will follow, was read in the senate and deputies to day. The chambers by a vote of 318 to 78 expressed confidence in the government.

Colliery Explosion.

SHENANDOAH, Pa., March 18. An explosion of gas in colliery No. 4, Lost creek, to-day resulted in the death of two miners and the fatal injury of Foreman Heaton.

AN IMPORTANT MATTER.

COLORADO SPRINGS, March 18, 1890.

To Members of the Board of Trade and Citizens of Colorado Springs:

Since the public spirited generosity of three of our citizens, Messrs. Martin, Eaton and McGovney, has provided an acceptable location for the building of the Printers' home, it is becoming that our citizens should contribute of their means towards securing, beyond peradventure, the establishment of said home in this city, and as the action of the Denver convention of the International Typographical union of last year, accepting our site, and providing for the construction of the home, under certain conditions, is likely to be seriously threatened at the coming convention to be held at Atlanta, Ga., next June, I now appeal to the generosity and public spirit of our citizens and especially members of this board (who ought to take the lead in all measures for the public good) to contribute such sums as they feel they can spare in this critical juncture, towards making up a donation to the building fund of the Printers' home, so large, liberal and attractive, that when reported to the Atlanta convention by the delegates from our local Typographical union, it will take the life out of all opposition to the establishment of the home at Colorado Springs. When the great importance of securing this home for our city is borne in mind it will be conceded that money given to this end is worthily contributed and can never be thought of regretfully. All the money; all the thousands we have paid out for advertising purposes since the town was born, in 1871, has not done as much good for our future as will the single act of establishing this city as the site for the location of the Printers' home. Every town of 500 people or more in the United States and Canada is the abode of one or more union printers, and every one of these printers, distributed in every quarter of our broad land, will know that here, on the banks of the Fontaine Qui Bouille, at the foot of the far famed Pike's Peak, a home is ready for his declining years, should the exigencies of his condition lead him to come to it. What amount of advertising could insure such general and wide spread, in fact, almost universal knowledge of our city, as will this single fact? But we are in danger of losing all this, because we are in danger of losing the home. In the Denver convention of last year Colorado naturally had the majority. The opposition came from our competitor in a southern state. In the coming convention the opposition will naturally be [illegible] we bestir ourselves in all directions. Therefore, citizens, I beg you to heed this appeal. May I ask you to send contributions towards the building fund to B. W. Steele, esq., editor of the GAZETTE, or to S. N. Francis, esq., editor of the Pike's Peak Herald, who will hand them over to the treasurer of the Colorado Springs Typographical union, to report at the International Typographical union convention at Atlanta in June next. In this [illegible] liberality is [illegible]. Respectfully,

M. L. DE COURSEY,
President of the Board of Trade.

The discussion on anonymity in journalism will be continued in the March New Review, with extracts from letters by Labouchere, Lang, Justin McCarthy, Grant Allen and others; and Mr. Allen also contributes an article on the "Origin of Animals."

The GAZETTE was unfortunate enough yesterday to refer to the preposterous [illegible] in our [illegible] afternoon contemporary that the proposed dam of the Lake Moraine reservoir was to be "a solid masonry dam of cut stone and unequal thickness, 150 feet across the bottom, laid with the best Portland cement, &c." This seemed to burst the dam of reflection and give us a more lively variety. It is to be hoped that the [illegible] of our "Town Topics" now feels better. Had he taken a cold bath, he would have had quicker relief. We had no idea such a little thing would make him suffer so. We have steadily refrained heretofore from calling attention to much more extraordinary things in our sweet natured contemporary, because it was hardly fair to expect certain journalistic qualities, [illegible] and except courtesy. As a sort of an "afternoon tea" paper, however, it is [illegible] of credit, and we will not err by criticising it again as a newspaper. We will also try to help it keep up appearances when such items as the passage of the Lake Moraine bill come in [illegible] for it to publish by giving it points.

HIGH LICENSE.

There are two kinds of prohibitionists. One kind will not favor any but a prohibition law under any circumstances. Another kind is in favor of prohibition when it is possible to enact such a law and when the public opinion of the community will support its enforcement. When it is not possible to have a prohibitory [illegible] the latter class is in favor [illegible] will be [illegible] enforced and will do the most good to reduce the evils of intemperance. It is quite evident, for example, that a prohibition law cannot be enacted in New York state, or if it were enacted it could not be enforced in New York city. Under this circumstance, therefore, the latter class of prohibitionists favor a high license law for New York City. There are small communities in New York state where most of the people are total abstainers and are against saloons. In such communities a prohibitory law could easily be enforced. If the end is kept in view, that is, the reduction of the evils of intemperance, the first class would not take their uncompromising position. The radical prohibitionists who are opposed to high license have stated among other things that high license simply permits the selling of liquor under the form of law, but does not reduce intemperance. It has been difficult to obtain very exact statistics on this subject. The Philadelphia Press, however, gives some very exact statistics regarding the experiment of high license in Philadelphia. The high license went into effect in Philadelphia on the first of June, 1888. The society which collected the statistics ends its year March 1, so that to facilitate comparisons the statistics are all given for the nine months ending March 1. Of the general effect of high license on crime it appears that the total commitments were 21,603 from June 1, 1887, to March 1, 1888, under the low license law. For the nine months ending March 1, 1889, these were reduced to 13,767 and for same period ending March 1, 1890, to 14,277. The difference in the total commitments was largely due to the fact that there were fewer drunken men committed. As for example, under the period given above for low license 13,300 were committed for intoxication, and for the following years under the high license 6,889 and 7,283. The difference between the commitments for intoxication is almost equal to the difference between the total commitments for the different years, showing the direct effect of the high license law. Another set of interesting statistics is that regarding the operation of the Sunday closing part. For the nine months in two of the years previous to the operation of the high license law, the commitments on Monday morning for intoxication were 1517 and 905. For the two years that high license has been in force the commitments have been 762 and 480. This shows a wonderful reduction in drunkenness. The largest reduction [illegible] to be among the females. As, for example, 807 females were committed for Sunday intoxication in 1886 and 1887 and but 30 in 1888 and 1889. Statistics like these hardly need any comment.

The Flood Situation.

NEW ORLEANS, March 18. The river situation in this immediate vicinity is not much changed, but the levees are being strengthened. A dispatch from St. Joseph, La., says that the situation on the Tensas front is becoming more favorable. In that vicinity armed guards have been placed on the levees with instructions to stop anybody approaching them at night.

VICKSBURG, Miss., March 18. There was a serious break in the levee at Lima, Ark., to-day and to-night it has widened to three hundred feet. The levee at Offets also broke this evening above Greenville. The water from this break will overflow all of the rich lands of the Deer Creek section back of Greenville. A large force of men is [illegible] put to work and it is hoped to get the break closed. If not soon closed a large part of the country will be inundated.

Fifty-First Congress.

SENATE.

WASHINGTON, March 18. The committee on finance reported a substitute for the bill against trusts in restraint of production and it was placed on the calendar.

Immediately after the morning business consideration of the urgency deficiency bill was resumed.

An item of $3000 was inserted in aid of the Industrial Home association of Utah territory. An amendment was offered by Hale authorizing the use of $5000 for the relief of the Turtle Mountain band of Indians of the Devil's Lake agency.

Teller said when he was secretary of the interior he investigated the case of the Turtle Mountain Indians and there were not 300 of them, mostly half breeds; that number was now, according to the published statements, swelled to over 1900, but these were not American Indians, they were Manitoba Chippewas, and if the doors of general distribution were thus opened to them all the Chippewas in that country would flock into the United States. The British Chippewas should be sent back where they belonged. He wanted to put on record his denial of the statement, whether it came from the pulpit or elsewhere, that those Indians had been improperly treated by the government of the United States. The amendment was agreed to.

Amendments were also agreed to as follows: For agricultural experiment stations in Arizona, New Mexico and Utah, $30,000; for preliminary investigations for artesian wells for irrigation purposes within the area west of the 97th meridian and east of the foot hills of the Rocky mountains, $20,000. The bill then passed.

The Blair educational bill was then taken up and Hawley spoke in opposition. Congress does not govern so well that it should undertake to do everything, said Hawley. There were not school houses enough in the city of Washington, where congress had exclusive jurisdiction. Half of the children had to attend school in the forenoon and half in the afternoon. Congress had showed that it could not run the common schools of the District of Columbia. He found, too, that congress was not a success in the management of the Indians, for he read every day charges that the government was robbing the Indians, and had read recently an eloquent protest from the chief of the Cherokees that they were crowded out of their lands. He found congress was imbecile so far as the coast defences of the country were concerned. The government had a few cast iron guns and had no protection against first class or second class iron-clads. Three or four years ago there had been nothing left of the former brilliant navy but some poor, old, broken down, ragged cripples of ships. Now the country was beginning to have a navy, but still it was practically defenseless. He found the supreme court loaded down with neglected business, so there was practically a denial of justice all over the United States, and congress had not been able or willing to reorganize and relieve that court. In short, he found everywhere proof that congress was not absolutely wise. The bill was bad; it abandoned the original theory of the government and launched the government on an unbounded sea of wild schemes.

Moody and Chandler spoke briefly in support of the bill, which then went over.

The house amendments to the Oklahoma bill were non-concurred in and a conference ordered.

The following senate bills for public buildings passed: Spokane Falls, Washington, $100,000; Walla Walla, Washington, $80,000; Tacoma, Washington, $100,000; Seattle, Washington, $100,000.

The senate bill to establish certain ports of delivery in Alaska territory, Key Island, Wrangle, Juneau, [illegible] Kodiak and Ounalaska was passed. The senate then adjourned.

HOUSE.

A resolution was adopted calling on the secretary of war and the interior for information as to whether a saving of the public funds can be made by transferring the bureau of pensions from the interior to the war department.

A resolution was adopted calling upon the secretary of the interior for data relative to the payment of pensions and for estimates as to the amount of money which will be required for the payment of arrears in the case the limitation clause of the arrears act is repealed.

A bill was passed authorizing that affidavits and depositions under the public land laws be made before the commissioners of United States courts or the clerks of the courts of record in the county in which the lands are situated.

Stout, of Missouri, introduced, for reference, a bill to abolish the Utah commission, and devolve its duties upon a board consisting of the governor, the territorial secretary and the president of the council of the legislative assembly.

The bill to repeal the timber culture laws was taken up. The bill provides that any person who has made an entry of public lands under the timber culture laws, who has for four years complied with the provisions of said laws, shall be entitled to make final proof and acquire a title by the payment of one dollar and twenty-five cents per acre.

Pending action the house went into committee of the whole on the pension appropriation bill.

Morrow, of California, who is in charge of the bill which appropriates $98,427,000, explained the provisions in detail. With reference to the general subject of pensions he said it might safely be assumed that the number of pensioners would reach a maximum about July 1, 1894, when the expenditure would be $112,000,000. On that date under the existing law the number of pensioners on the rolls would be 200,000.

Peters said that for the first time in the history of the country the house had before it a careful and concise estimate of what the expenditure of the pension bureau would be during the next fiscal year. He defended the administration of the bureau. While he had not defended all the acts of Commissioner Tanner, he could only say that the officer had followed in the wake of his predecessor, General Black. Pending further debate the committee rose and the house adjourned.

Faulkner Still Living.

ALBANY, N. Y., March 18. A story is published this evening to the effect that Lester B. Faulkner, the wrecker of the Dansville bank, supposed to have died January 27, is still living in Mexico. He availed himself of the death of his gardener to have the body buried as his own and then quietly left. It is said that the United States government officers became aware of the cheat, and at the present term of court, which convened to day, will proceed against Faulkner's bondsmen for the amount of his bonds.

The Bayview Inquest.

BUFFALO, March 18. The inquest on the Bayview disaster of March 6 ended today. The jury charged the Lake Shore management with gross negligence of rules, and the conductor, J. W. Houghtaling, directly and culpably responsible for the lives lost in the wreck.

The Kansas Exchange.

KANSAS CITY, March 18.—There were two regular calls at the mining exchange to day, the visiting Denver brokers being present at each to show the Kansas City brokers how it was done. The first call occurred at 11.30 a. m., and 100,000 shares of stock changed hands. After lunch the delegates attended the afternoon call, when about the same number of shares were dealt in as at the morning call.

The delegates to the miners' convention then assembled at the Warder Grand opera house for the transaction of business. One of the principal features of the afternoon call was a deal in the stock of the Little Nugget gold mine. This property is owned and managed entirely by a woman, Mrs. Lila B[illegible], president of the company. She was on the floor of the exchange and announced that she had decided to dispose of 5000 shares of stock at 50 cents a share. President Charles Taylor of the Denver board gallantly announced that he would take the whole amount. Other members of the Denver crowd objected and Mr. Taylor told them they could buy from him if they were so anxious for the stock. They were anxious and paid 59 cents for half of Mr. Taylor's holdings.

Noland Arrested.

JEFFERSON CITY, March 18.—Prosecuting Attorney Davidson filed information this morning charging ex-State Treasurer Noland with embezzling state funds. Noland was present and gave himself up. He was admitted to bail.

HE LED A DOUBLE LIFE.

The Flight of Teller Pope, of Louisville, Brings His Record to Light.

The wrong doing of one man generally casts suspicion on many, and the recent flight of William H. Pope, teller of the Louisville City National bank, with $60,000 of the institution's funds will probably furnish excuse for the humorists again to turn their attention to bank officials as subjects for witty paragraphs. The violation of such a trust as that reposed in a teller is, however, more a theme for serious consideration than for a joke. The thief does not really rob the bank, he robs the honest tellers and professional and business men who are the depositors, and who depend upon their savings to secure their future from want.

Teller Pope is a native of Kentucky, and was born thirty-eight years ago on a farm near Louisville. He received a good education and in 1881 entered the service of the City National bank as a clerk having charge of collections. Several promotions followed in due course of time, and two years ago he was made teller. The bank officials had no suspicion of Pope, and they regarded him as a person without bad habits, and thrifty in disposition, his thrift indeed bordering on parsimony. At his apartments on Grayson street and to his business acquaintances he was a model of sobriety. But in another portion of the city he had a different kind of dwelling place and an entirely different sort of reputation. To his shady companions he was known as a man of bad morals, who gambled heavily and drank deeply. In a word, he was Mr. Hyde at night and Dr. Jekyll by day.

WILLIAM H. POPE.

Pope's absence from his desk one morning created suspicion, and a count of the cash showed that $60,000 in bills was gone. Pope was bonded for $20,000 by the Fidelity Casualty and Trust company of New York.

SHE WAS AN HONOR TO HER SEX.

Columbia College Perpetuates the Memory of Her First Female Graduate.

Early in March there was placed in the west end of the Columbia College library at New York a memorial window in honor of a woman—the late Miss Mary Parsons Hankey, daughter of J[illegible] Hankey, of Totts Hill, Staten Island. This is intended to perpetuate the memory of the fact that Miss Hankey was the first [illegible] whatever received the degree of Bachelor of Arts from Columbia. She graduated with [illegible] honors in 1881, and [illegible] feet of a [illegible] at the New York [illegible] school with which M[illegible] of Cleveland was once identified. known a better example of a finely proportioned and well rounded education for a woman, and that woman a lady, than Mary [illegible]

The design for the window is by Prof. [illegible] Bleim, of Munich. The subject is treated in an allegorical way, and represents the student kneeling, with wreaths of former triumphs at her feet, and reaching for the further honors tendered by knowledge or science. At the same time the student's face is turned toward an angel who is holding to her an immortal crown. Appropriate inscriptions appear at the feet of the figures, the class motto, the family coat of arms, Miss Hankey's favorite motto, and the record in Latin of the young lady's scholastic standing at Columbia and the date of her birth, which was Jan[illegible] 1, [illegible].

Recently a New York Celestial [illegible] with [illegible] of a white girl, but failed to contribute much to her support. She bought a baby and palmed it off on him as their child. By this time she succeeded in getting several hundred dollars from him, with which she fled. The Chinaman first decided on killing himself, but thought better of that and swore out a warrant for the fugitive.

Sullivan Disagreeably Surprised.

John L. Sullivan, who, [illegible] occasionally finds that he cannot have everything his own way. Recently he entered a New York drinking place and [illegible] the patrons, save one, an unknown young man who resented unseemly familiarity on the fighter's part with a blow which sent Sullivan sprawling on the floor. The abashed and intoxicated champion was then led away by his friends.

On the continent of Europe the influenza has been succeeded by a [illegible] malady called la nona. Sufferers recovering from the grippe fell into a state of coma for two or three days. If they wake up thoroughly, no serious consequences follow, but if they sink into another [illegible] within a few hours. [illegible] while stating in Europe, is now [illegible]

Out of Bondage

The Hyers Sisters Comedy company in their popular play, "Out of Bondage, or, Before and After the War," will be the attraction at the opera house tonight. A California exchange says "'Out of Bondage,' by the Hyers Sisters Comedy company at D street theatre last night drew the largest audience for the season. The play represents a colored family before and after the civil war. It opens with a plantation scene in the cotton field, and the darkies work and sing and dance in such a manner as to take a southerner back to the scenes of childhood Here the characters of the play are seen in true negro slave character; but in the last act the younger members of the family are found comfortably situated in the north, well clothed, educated and refined. It is in this act especially that the Hyers Sisters appear to best advantage. Miss Louise has a remarkable contralto voice and in the character of Kaiseiah displayed marked ability as a stage soubrette. She reads the lines of the part excellently well. both in the slave and free scenes. Narcissa, pet of the plantation, gives Miss Madah Hyers a fine show for the versatility of talent she possesses, and at no time in the run of the play does she fail to fully represent Her elocution is remarkably perfect and her voice in song full of melody and compass She and her sister are perhaps the only colored performers on the stage to-day who affect grand opera selections They not only affect it, but they sing it admirably."

While in the Eastern markets, undersigned contracted for five hundred Chamber Suites of different lines—Since January the first, we have sold for the Alamo Hotel, 85 suites, The Barker House 44 suites, The Glockner Sanitarium, 30 suits, which together with a number of other other large and small bills will run the aggregate up to more than two hundred suites Our experience and knowledge of the business and acquaintance in the market guarantee our purchases on the lowest possible basis, and it must be apparent to everybody that a firm that can buy and sell in such quantities can buy for 10, 15 and 25 dollars per suite less than the dealer who orders in small lots, and who does not agree to dispose of any certain number of suites.

We have been in the Mercantile business for 18 years, through all kinds of competition, and the livelier the better for us as it only demonstrates to the satisfaction of all, that we can not be undersold So come right along, we do not propose to lose a single customer on any item of General House Furnishings
